National Standards for Higher Education describe Learning Outcomes as one of the criteria to be assessed by External Quality Assurance bodies. This makes reference to National Qualifications Framework where general learning outcomes for different level and diploma types are described. However still there are no specific learning outcomes for different academic fields or professions which makes difficult the Learning Outcomes assessment in practice. This is one of the next developing aspects of the NQF and EQA practice in the future

III.14. Are there any incentives for higher education institutions to admit non-traditional students?
No ▼
III.14.1. Please indicate which incentives exist and how they operate. Do they apply to all HEIs or only to some HEIs? If they only apply to some HEIs, please indicate to which ones.
III.15. Comments
Non traditional students have opportunities to be involved in State Matura process by taking the elective exams, in order to get the right to be enrolled in public universities through the applications procedures, or chose to go to private HEIs. The entry to HEIs is standardized for traditional and non traditional students.
III.16. In your country, are there any bridging programmes for HE candidates who do not possess standard qualification(s) opening access to higher education?
 □ Yes, such programmes exist and they are targeted at those who left school prior to the completion of any type of upper secondary education. □ Yes, such programmes exist and they are targeted at those who have completed an upper secondary programme which does not allow direct access to higher education. ☑ No, such programmes do not exist.
III.16.1. Please provide details on these programmes, the qualifications they lead to (e.g. standard upper secondary school leaving certificate, qualification/certificate that differs from the standard upper secondary school leaving certificate) and the number of participants completing the courses (latest available statistics):

VL6. In your higher education policy, is there a focus on promoting the flexible provision of higher education studies/programmes (e.g. changing the intensity of study programmes according to personal circumstances)?
No, there is no specific focus in HE policy on promoting the flexible provision of HE studies/programmes
VL6.1. Please provide a short description of specific policy measures that exist in your country.
VI.7. Which of the statements on student statuses best describes the situation in your country?
There are several student statuses (e.g. 'full-time', 'part-time', etc.)
VI.7.1. Please explain what student statuses exist in your country and how you define them.
'part-time' student: is studying at particular times and in the evening (to permit, for example, workers to continue with studying), and accumulates a smaller number of credits in a year. Part time studies have a longer period of study than full time ones but the same number of credits gained at the end of the studies 'full-time' student: is studying full time, generally following study programmes in daytime hours
VI.7.2. If there is only one student status without any further distinctions, please specify whether HE students in your country can change the pace of their studies (e.g. apply for a limited number of credits) and follow de facto part-time studies.
VI.7.3. Please indicate which fees apply to students studying part-time.
Students studying part-time pay (or are likely to pay) higher fees for the same volume of study (i.e. the same number of credits) than students following typical study arrangements
VI.7.4. Please indicate which fees apply to de facto part-time students.

VL7.5. Please indicate the amount of financial support, to which are eligible students holding a formal alternative student status.
Students studying part-time are eligible for a lower amount of financial support for the same volume of study (i.e. the same number of credits) than students following typical study arrangements (please specify in comments how the support is calculated)
VL7.6. Please indicate the amount of financial support, to which are eligible de facto part-time students.
VI.8. Are there any higher education programmes in your country designed as 'part-time' programmes?
Yes ▼
VI.8.1. Please provide details on these programmes (in particular, how they differ from conventional higher education programmes). Please also specify whether students following these programmes pay the same amount of fees (or higher/lower fees) and are eligible for the same amount of support (or higher/lower support) as students enrolled in conventional programmes.
Part-time programmes are identical to the same full-time programmes as regards to the content of the programme. They differ only in duration and distribution of hours /year. For example, a part time bachelor study lasts 4 years instead of 3 years of a full time one, but the student accumulates 180 ECTS at the end of the studies in both cases.
VL9. Which of the following statements best describes the extent to which HE institutions offer part-time studies or other alternative forms of study?
Higher education institutions have autonomy to decide but most of them offer part-time studies or other alternative forms of study
VI.9.1. If you have any further comments regarding this section, please provide them here:
VI.10. In your country, can prior non-formal and informal learning be taken into account/accredited towards fulfilment of a higher education study programme?
No
VI.10.1. Please choose the statement that best applies to your country-specific situation.
VI.10.2. Please specify whether the process can lead to a complete award of a higher education qualification or whether it can only lead to a limited number of credits.
